UNION SCHOOLS.

In the last twenty years, Union Schools, or as they are sometimes called, graded schools, have grown quite common. Every town of respectable size has a large building with three or four or more rooms, the whole under charge of a principal. We have never seen any reports of the workings of these schools. Generally, we suppose they answer the purpose intended, the saving of money, that being one great object with all School Directors. But it seems to us the plan is a bad one, for the following reasons:

First. The rooms are not so healthy as the common one room school houses. Ventilation is generally secured only on two sides of the room, when it should be on every side. When the building is heated by steam, the effect upon the health of the children is very bad. If this position be correct is certainly much against Union School houses.

Second. It places children of all sizes too much together. We know, that to avoid this is one of the objects of the Union School, but it is practically a failure. They are not together during the hours of recitation, but they are during the play hours, which is almost as bad. Further, the younger children should have more time allotted them for play than the older ones. But this cannot be done, at least without great trouble. The children of one room will not be very attentive to their studies while they hear the children of another room playing outside. So, the little child of six is made to play with the youngster of sixteen, and is allotted only the same time to play, which is simply barbarous, and injurious to both.

Third. It takes too much responsibility away from the under teachers, and places it upon the principal. All matters of serious disputes are referred to the principal. All who have had experience in teaching know this to be bad. The teacher should be supreme in his or her room. Any other rule will work out bad results.

Other reasons can be given, but we stop with these. How can these things be avoided? Manifestly not by the Common District School system. Schools must be graded in the towns and villages. But let there be a building for each grade, and the objections we have named will disappear. The expense would not be much greater, and would be more than balanced by the good results. J.

March Winds—Air-Tight Stoves—Beecher's Church—Amusements—Theatre—Rink—An ex-Congressman in a New Role—The Inclined Plane at Madison—Special Elections &c., &c.

EAST ENTERPRISE, IND., March 31, 1869.

These March winds play the very mischief tweaking off hats, distressing bonnets, displaying balmorals and making things, particularly and generally, disagreeable. But, hold! one good we can speak of them. They bear away a portion of the surplus moisture, on hand yet from last Winter's stock, and in this confer an inestimable boon on "all who dwell below the skies." The waters have abated, once more dry land appears. Houses that have stood for several months like so many isolated fortresses, give signs of animation in the occasional appearance of their fair garrisons, who, embracing the earliest offer of Spring to escape from their arsenal of sauce pans and china ware, greet each other with the joy of long parted friends. Fair weather is a pleasure, if for nothing else than allowing the blessed women to get a free and pure supply of oxygen. Well may men rejoice, too, about to be released from the thralldom of pent up confines, who have for days borne the rack of brain caused by what Dickens aptly calls, and righteously curses as "the red hot demon of America—the stove!" A more exquisite instrument of torture was never used in Inquisitorial halls, and if any body is dying to immortalize himself let him contrive some substitute destructive of the unwholesome power of this infernal air tight engine and a generous people will rear him a monumental pile higher than the top end of Chimborazo.

Before quitting Indianapolis let me refer to a few more items noted. The Congregational Church where H. W. Beecher fed his flocks with spiritual food, dished up in his approved style, stands upon one of the corners near the business part of the city. A superficial glance was all I gave it. Rectangular and two stories, (if I may call a high basement by such definition,) brick, and painted a dull white, surrounded by a small enclosure of wooden railing, presenting decidedly a common appearance. It is not many years since he gave up his charge there for the one he now holds. This building would seat, perhaps, four hundred people; his Brooklyn audience we are told, numbers three thousand, with a pecuniary enlargement in the same ratio. His lines may be said to have fallen in pleasant places.

Camp Morton, about two miles from Capitol square, will be remembered as a place of confinement for rebel prisoners of war. In those troublous times it was thickly peopled and numerous incidents are related by citizens of the city, of their unwelcome guests. The most atrocious designs were plotted against the city by the prisoners, abetted by residents of the copperhead persuasion. One was a concerted attack on the military, the seizure of their arms, and a general cleaning out of the city by fire and sword. It was frustrated by one of the rebels who "peached." Attempts to escape are certainly excusable in captured enemies, even at the cost of life, but a wholesale slaughter of peaceful citizens could only be the offspring of such cowardly brains as were possessed by the sympathizers of the North. The ringleaders were of this stamp and hearing of their exposure decamped. One has recently returned to his home and was pointed out to me on the street as "a man to whom no one paid more respect than to a dog!" To this it must and should come. The camp is now tired; what resounded once to the martial tread of soldiers is turned under by the plow, and the harrow of Time is fast effacing the signs of its former use.

In the way of amusements or rather in the places, Indiana's Capital is not behind hand. Its cademy of Music is handsome without and within, a beautiful Temple of Thespia. As for the playing, they who have seen Opera Bouffe know of what it is made up. I did hear Mrs. Scott Siddons give an agreeable reading of "Rosalind" in "As you Like It," but "Bill" Shakspeare's side-splitting comedies and thrilling tragedies are trite to the masses of play-goers. In this age of tinsel they prefer the glare of La Belle Helene, with the dramatical world as O'Reilly did with the world of letters.

"What cares a steam electric age,
For narratives Byronical?
It rather loves to chronicle
Some witty thing laconical,
Thrown lightly down upon the page!"

The Rink furnishes pastime, afternoons and evenings, for those fond of the skatorial. It is a large enclosed building covering an area of about one half acre. Inside is the space allotted to skaters, with a margin of ten feet on three sides for spectators and about twenty feet on the other for a gallery, restaurants, office, etc. During the cold season they have ice by flooding the inner compartment with water, during Spring and Fall they have a smooth floor of plank for roller skating. There is every difference between a pair of steel runners and a four wheeled skate, as I found on trial. However proficient one may be with the former he will find in the first attempt on the latter a constant liability to perform acrobatic feats, such as standing on his head, running on all fours. It takes a deal of coaxing to overcome the aversion one foot has for the other and the tendency they have to keep as far apart as possible. But if you do pound the floor occasionally, what of it? There is a lady who makes a first rate base drum accompaniment to the band and if she can stand why certainly you should. The Rink is a resort for prize skating. I witnessed one contest, speed carrying the prize. "Billy" English, ex-Congressman and the man who caned a certain blustering Representative from Washington county in Washington City, during the Kansas imbroglio, was referee. At the tap of the bell the floor was cleared, excepting the judges and contestants. Three only entered and the silver goblet was awarded to the roughest looking boy in the Rink, not more than fifteen years old. They ran against time and he was the fleetest. There is not such grace in roller as runner skating but its adaptability to all seasons gives it the preference in the city. The ladies "take to it wonderfully" and as it is the best of exercise my advice is, to all who can, learn to skate on rollers.

On my return trip down the Madison & Indianapolis R. R. I had a good opportunity for seeing the inclined plane at the river terminus. The grade is about four hundred feet and two miles in length, or two hundred feet to the mile. Without "W's" or curves of any extent. Trains going up are drawn by a single engine aided by a cogged rail, one foot and a half in width laid in the centre of the road bed, and in some way adapted to the machinery. The speed is not great, but really faster than it seems possible. Coming down the locomotive is detached at the top of the plane and with brake "hard down" the train creeps to nearly the foot of the incline when they are "off" and the cars dart with fearful rapidity almost to the river's brink, round a curve and along a level to the depot. The last is a wild ride and calculated to make you hold your breath from the excitement if not fear. Several accidents of serious nature have happened here, but the precautions taken before ascent or descent of sounding axles and examining brakes, with the improved machinery now in use, renders the travel less precarious than crossing the Alleghenies on the Central Penna.

The special elections in this State were held on the 23d inst., but the papers I have yet received have only the early rumors and, of course, are not reliable. I am only three miles from the county of Ohio in which an election was held, or rather the Democracy went through the motions. One of its citizens informs me that in some places the polls were not opened, the Democrats themselves not thinking it worth while to endorse the secession of their members. But very few Republicans voted and in most instances they had no ticket. The Democrats will probably be returned to their seats, but the cool indifference of their constituents will cut down majorities to such degree as will dampen their ardor not a little. Q.

For the REPUBLICAN.
LETTER FROM IOWA.

We love to speak good words of our adopted State, we care not where our lot be cast. It does us good to speak of the many virtues and good qualities possessed by our young Hawkeye State. For proof that her praise is not confined to her own children, we have but to read the papers of any other State, to find Iowa lauded to the skies. When war with its dark, lurid clouds cast the gloom of war athwart the National sky, no name shown brighter than that of Iowa. Her sons were among the first to spring to arms, took part in every battle in the West, and many in the East from Wilson's creek to the fall of the last Southern stronghold. But she is not great alone in war. Peace had hardly blessed the land ere her hardy sons were again at their old trades or vocations, and giving a mighty impetus to the rapidly growing State. Her millions of broad acres of land are the most fertile, her citizens the most intelligent and industrous; and now, she has set a most glorious example to her older citizens by striking out the "white" from the constitution and making manhood the qualification for the elective franchise. We are proud to be called an Iowaian; and love to sound her praise. In 1836, that which is now called the State of Iowa contained 10,000 inhabitants. In 1838 it was detached from the territory of Wisconsin, and in 1846 it was admitted as a State, having a population of 97,000. In 1856 the population had increased to 306,000; in 1867 to 902,000, and at present 1,200,000 of as brave, patriotic, generous, warm-hearted sons and daughters of freedom as any State can boast of. Come to its borders, ye over-worked of the crowded States; ye whose feet are covered with stone bruises and whose most expert calling is stump pulling; come, a million of broad acres await your coming. It seems almost incredible that such rapid progress were true; and if we did not know it is so, we might think we lived in the days of Aladdin and his wonderful lamp. But we have the aid of a lamp far more beautiful than ever that fabled one was said to be—the Lamp of Freedom! Ever has its wick been well trimmed and its fires brightly burning in Iowa; and so it will ever be. The cause of such rapid growth must be looked for in natural advantages. On each side it is bounded by rivers which are among the largest in the world, while it lies within lines of latitude which gives a climate in a high degree favorable for health and bodily activity; and, also, for the production of staple articles of food which are of quick sale, and which are produced in brief periods of time, and with little labor. The area in square miles, which is 5590, is larger than all England; nine tenths of the surface is prairie, with a soil from one to six feet deep. The Des Moines, Cedar, Iowa and other rivers penetrate the interior of the country giving abundant water; and it is conceded that the scenery along the banks of some of these rivers, is as beautiful as any in our land. And here let me say a word to the ladies who love flowers and flower gardens. Here you will find phlores of every hue—white, purple, red and crimson; lilies, roses and most all perennials grow wild here on the prairies. In the gardens where annuals are cultivated they grow luxuriously. Great country for grapes, melons, hops and tobacco, every thing in short, that is raised in the temperate zone. You can raise cattle, as well as grain, for one-quarter of the labor and expense that you can in any of the Eastern States. People here are friendly, and their invitation to all honest, industrious men is, come; the vast prairies say come; the healthy climate says come; good society says come; the good water says come, and the voice is to all wanting homes. As many of your readers are inquiring of me if Iowa farming pays, I would say to that portion who are interested in this rather queer question, but one often asked in the States farther East: If a man moves here and waits "for something to turn up," it will not pay; but if he pulls off his coat, and rolls up his sleeves, and goes in, "turns up the sod," puts [illegible] improves his place, it will pay. I will give you one incident which is now uppermost in my mind, but which is only one of thousands, showing whether farming pays in this country. A little more than a year ago a Mr. Stephenson came to this place with a little money in his pocket, a stout heart, a strong arm and a good span of horses. Instead of sitting down in idleness, using up his means and complaining because he could not get rich, he went out three miles west of town and bought 80 acres of prairie at $8 per acre, and immediately commenced breaking it up, which being done, he spent the winter in preparing fencing; last spring he sowed it with wheat, and while the grain was growing, put up the fence. The crop was harvested, thrashed and one thousand bushels sold at $1 15 per bushel, realizing the handsome sum of $1,115, with some five hundred bushes left for home use and next year's seed. Thus one year's crop paid the whole price of the land, breaking, seed, seeding and harvesting. Intelligent, industrious Iowa farming does pay. One pair of horses with the Moline plow will break two acres per day, that was never plowed before, with all ease. You can commence cutting hay on the prairies the 15th of June, and mow and stack until October. Can commence in October to husk corn, and husk all winter, with the exception of a few cold days, which for the present winter, I must say, are like "angel's visits," "few and far between." Iowa is said to be so cold and windy that plasters are necessary to keep a man's hair on his head, and that you might as well attempt to raise roses on dog-fennel as fruit in Iowa. This is not much exaggeration of what some people in the Eastern States think of us; but, they are badly mistaken. To dispose of their foolish notion, we call their attention to the fact—that an Iowa fruit grower took the first premium on apples at the Illinois State fair at Quincy. How does that dovetail with the Illinois assertion that Iowa can't raise fruit? If persons in the East, who have been educated to believe that Iowa is the coldest spot on earth, were to witness such a winter as this, they would radically change minds. I never experienced in the Eastern States a more pleasant winter than this. True, we have had a few cold days; but there was no time when men could not be out of doors with perfect safety, and if at any kind of hand work, did not suffer with the cold. As I have repeatedly said, the weather here is much more endurable and healthy than in the States East of this; because of the dryness, we are seldom, if ever, troubled with mud in the winter season, and the result is, a much better set of roads. It is much superior to Pennsylvana in this respect, as there is scarcely a day during winter or spring, when farmers cannot use their teams and wagons very comfortably. We would be glad if those who think hard freezing and high winds are the chief characteristic of winter here, were to see how badly they are deceived. But they have been educated to believe it, and in the absence of ocular demonstration, it must be so. I confess to having been happily disappointed. I was made to believe that the winds would blow the hair off the head and the cold would freeze the horns off the cattle, if they chance to have any; but we see how badly we were deceived.

Iowa is the central State, bounded on the east by the great Misaissippi, and on the west by Missouri, with railroads running east and west, north and south, with more arable land than any other State in the Union, healthy and salubrious climate, good water and common people; equal before the law, neither slaves nor lords. Men here have touched bottom all are on a level.

The State is out of debt. During the war her people were so patriotic that no assessments were made to purchase substitutes; nor were the regiments of any of the others States more wholly composed of volunteers. Her free school system is sustained by funds so ample, as not to be exceeded by any of the Western States except, perhaps, by Minnesota, while the State University has a cash endowment of $25,000 a year; and the Agricultural College has an income of $50,000. This last Institution receives young ladies, as students, the same as young gentlemen, which is an advance movement of which no other State boasts. The liberality and independence of the people of Iowa, at the last general election, when they gave to all men the liberty to vote is another advance; and it is predicted that in the not distant future the elective franchise will be still further extended. This certainly indicates a high degree of prosperity; and yet in 97 of the organized counties two-thirds of the land is uncultivated, that is, there yet remain 25,000,000 acres of as rich land as the sun of Heaven ever shone on. Iowa rates second among the States for health, and fourth for its corn crop, which last year was about 90,000,000 bushels. Of other grains, of dairy and of general farm products, the amounts are proportionately large. The farmers of Iowa ride when they plow, ride when they sow, ride when they plant, ride when they cultivate, ride when they mow, ride when they rake and ride when they reap on rich, deep soil. No roots, stones or marshes in the way; all under-drained and sub-soiled, stumps and roots all away or deposited in quarries. All this vast labor was performed by him who causeth the grass to grow for cattle and herbs for the use of man. Were the people of the eastern States sensible of the advantages, there would be as great a rush here as there was to the gold mines of Australia and California. Mahaska county, my adopted home, I wish to speak of her. I once heard a Gentleman say that he did not think much of a man who did not think more of his own family than any other. I thought at the time that the remark was highly proper, and upon reflection see that it may very properly be applied to other matters as well as the family.

The man who does not think more of his own county than that of any other, all things being equal, is not a true patriot. It is his shield and protection, and demands his warmest sympathies and cordial support. It must be borne in mind, that Iowa is yet in her infancy—not yet out of her swaddling cloths. How does she compare with her older sisters who have grown to full stature? In point of growth, industry and prosperity, she outstrips them all. Mahaska county is yet but a babe, but she is growing to be a bouncer, and if she contracts no disease to injure her growth and prosperity, will soon grow into youth, manhood, and even old age. Her resources are now large and will become larger, and finally largest. She stands second to no county in Iowa, or any other State, in point of soil, water, stone, coal, timber, health &c. It is certainly the garden spot of the world for farming and other purposes, we believe, and will say to persons in the older States, if you contemplate a change of location, give Iowa a visit before settling elsewhere. If once here we feel satisfied all will be well. Oskaloosa, well known abroad as the city of trees, from the large number of beautiful shade trees that ornament its streets and the grounds of its private residences, was laid out on the 13th day of May, 1844, by the Commissioners appointed for that purpose. It is the seat of justice of Mahaska county, and was at first named after the county; but, almost immediately the vote was reconsidered and its present name adopted. It is located on a rising prairie, well skirted with timber on the dividing ridge, nearly midway between Des Moines and South Skunk rivers. Rain falling on the North side of the ridge finds its way to the Skunk river, while that on the South side eventually swells the waters of the Des Moines. It is situated in one of the richest and most fertile districts of the State; and the sun shines not upon a better or more productive soil or more loyal people than can be found in Mahaska. The county out of a population of 14,816 in 1860 sent 1,300 soldiers to the army, than whom none have a brighter record. The county has at present a population of about 20,000, ranking, we believe, about tenth of any in the State, while in the production of corn it ranked last year second. Its shipments of coal, with which its entire surface is underlaid, was last year far greater than any other county in the State, reaching nearly 1,000,000 bushels. Of these mines, the best worked and most productive are within almost a stone's throw of the county seat.

Oskaloosa has a population of 5000 or upwards, and a more healthy and pleasant location does not exist in the State, nor one where there are greater advantages offered to the industrious laborer or the man of capital. The following denominations have houses of worship and ministers: M. E., M. E. colored, Presbyterian, U. P., O. Presbyterian, Congregationalist, Christian, Baptist, Prot. Episcopal, Friends or Quakers, Catholic, and the Friends' yearly meeting House, used by that body in their annual meetings aside from these the Universalists and Unitarians have each a congregation, but not regularly supplied with pastors. All the above have Sabbath Schools. In regard to educational advantages but few towns of its size present the same facilities. Oskaloosa College, a very imposing and beautiful edifice, stands in the west part of town, has a fine ten acre flat of ground, and cost $50,000, one of the best schools in the country. The city owns two brick buildings each two stories high, containing eight rooms in all, where a portion of the public schools are taught; these being entirely inadequate for the accommodation of pupils, the C. P. church is rented and used as a high school department, and the Second M. E. church for the colored school; yet, all these are insufficient, and the school board has contracted for a $35,000 Union School House. Aside from all these we boast of two excellent select schools, one of which is classical and Normal. The city has a large local trade, twelve Dry Goods stores, three Clothing stores, three Boot and Shoe stores, four Drug stores, three hardware stores, seventeen groceries, four queensware stores, five bakeries, two furniture stores, two book stores, one news depot, two banks, fifteen lawyers, thirteen physicians, three dentists, two marble shops, three printing offices, three picture galleries, five hotels, five real estate firms, two tobacconists, two woolen factories, two flouring mills, two planing mills, four jewelry stores, two merchant tailor shops, three lumber yards, seven blacksmith shops, one coverlet weaver, one dye house, four barber shops, two agricultural warehouses, four wagon shops, one turning mill, three harness and saddle shops, together with mechanics of all kinds. If you desire to know more about this flourishing city, and country, come out and see for yourselves, and your curiosity shall be satisfied. Hoping our feeble effort may prove beneficial and instructive we subscribe ourselves

Yours &c.,
JNO. W. WALTON.

WE suppose the Democrats will lay the blame of their defeat in Connecticut on the Fifteenth Amendment. If it always works such results we will be satisfied. The day is past for men to be scared into voting the Democratic ticket by the cry of Negro equality.

The Waynesburg Republican.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1869.

FOR GOVERNOR,

JOHN W. GEARY,

Subject to the decision of the Republican Nominating Convention.

THE LESSONS OF THE PAST.

It is a poor party that cannot profit by defeat. The old Whig party could; so also can the Republican party. But it seems that the Democratic party is incapable of learning anything from past experience, or of looking into the future. Long years ago it made Slavery its idol. Any Statesman might have known that the current of freedom would soon overwhelm our country. But Democracy clung to Slavery, loved it dearly, was wedded to it and was swept away with it. Then it took up Rebellion, and the same result followed. Now its idol is opposition to manhood suffrage. "Repeal" is to be the motto of the next campaign—repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment, passed by our Legislature, and which is now before the Legislatures of the other States for ratification or rejection.

Any one who has watched the progress of opinion in the last ten years has seen the current working strongly in favor of Manhood Suffrage. Ten years ago there was hardly a man to advocate it; now it is adopted by States. Yet in the face of all this the Democratic leaders are arraying their party against this current, and are assuring their followers that they will at last win the day. Well, let them go. "Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad." We might as well beat them on this question as any other. The Democrats had their fingers scorched with Slavery, burned with Rebellion, and we judge that when they are done with Manhood Suffrage, they will be willing to keep their hands off of things.

THE Press points out a singular fact in the last annual report of the Prison Agent. The statistics submitted show that while crime has been on the increase among the white population, it has been decreasing among the blacks. As the colored population of Philadelphia "are to a man Republican in their political creed," and the majority of the whites Democratic (vide Wallace's campaign documents), the Press argues very forcibly that Democracy has something to do with the increase of crime. The point is well taken. If we are to be guided by the reasoning of the Democratic journals, certainly the color of the skin has nothing to do with the question; or rather, if we accept their theory that it impels a man to commit all manner of base crimes, it only strengthens the position of the Press. The thick skull, long heel, sharp shinbone, Ham Biblical, theologico-political theories don't bear pointedly, or in a strictly philosophical manner, upon facts submitted by the Prison Agent. In fact, we doubt if ever Nasby can help the Democracy out here.

AND now five months have come and gone, and the deluge of American citizens of African descent, which was to sweep over Iowa and Minnesota in consequence of the adoption of impartial suffrage, has not only not come, but there has not been a shower! And so, one by one, the lugubrious prophecies of the Democracy pass into the ridiculous jargon of the past, or what Mullins might call the oblivion of collateral chaos and everlasting smash.

TWITCHELL, who was to have been hung in Philadelphia on last Thursday, for the murder of his mother-in-law, committed suicide by taking arsenic. Eaton, who killed Timothy Heenan, was hanged the same day. Some of the papers are blaming Gov. Geary for not pardoning these men, who both protested to the last they were innocent. We think if a jury of twelve men convict a man, he ought to be punished. Gallows' confessions are humbugs.

THE election of a Republican Governor, two members of Congress—defeating Dixon—and a majority of the Legislature is as good a result as could be asked for in Connecticut; considering that the Democrats generally carry the State election since the inauguration of Grant, it is auspicious, and indicative that his course is approved by the people.

THE Monongahela Republican, edited and published by Chill Hazzard, Esq., made its appearance this week in a new dress and enlarged form. The Republican is a spicy local paper, and enjoys a deservedly large circulation.

GEN. ROWLEY, the late U. S. Marshall of this District, will be nominated by the soldiers of Allegheny county for State Senator.

NIGHT SCENES IN THE BIBLE.*

Many of the most affecting and most important scenes described in the Bible, transpired under the splendors of oriental night. Sodom and Egypt, Beersheba and Babylon, Carmel and Gilboa, Olivet and Emmaus, Jerusalem and the sea of Galilee, have each, by night, been witnesses of the power and glory of the omnipotent Jehovah.

The author of "Night Scenes in the Bible," has followed the shadow of night across the landscape of divine revelation, and grouped together the sacred scenes which are made awful or impressive by the mantle of darkness

He has succeeded in bringing to light "new and beautiful gems from the mine of bible truth," and has produced a delightful volume. The leading clergymen of the country have given it their most cordial approval as a "charming" and "instructive" work.

The style in which it is published excels anything it has been our privilege to examine. The steel engravings by the first artists of the country are perfect "gems of art." We have space to describe but two of them. The first is "The Night Watch in Mount Seir." Beside one of the mountain passes, with grand peaks towering crag upon crag, on either side, stands the watch-tower, and its solitary watch man. Just through the pass can be seen the first bright streaks of approaching dawn. At the foot of the pass, wholly shaded by the overhanging crags, a party of travelers are encamped. They cry out to the watch man: "Watchman, what of the night," and down through the pass comes reverberating that cheering cry, "The morning cometh." Again we pass on down the ages to the time when the morning had come, and the Sun of righteousness had arisen with healing on his wings. Before us is a lone mountain side, and a prostrate form kneeling on the un-cushioned rock. The pale moonbeams creep among the crags, just revealing their barreness; the stars shine dimly overhead; a huge night-bird flaps his wings and breaks the stillness of the midnight hour; but glory surrounds the lowly form—it is Jesus, for "it came to pass in those days that He went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God. It was a sublime scene, and the representation before us tends to awaken the most devout reflections.

Let parents who wish their children to love the word of God and understand its lessons of love, secure this volume, and give them free access to its pages.

THE PUBLIC CREDIT BILL.

The bill that recently passed Congress, to protect the public credit, has been signed by the President, and is therefore a law. It reads as follows:

"Be it enacted, etc., That in order to remove any doubt as to the purpose of the Government to discharge all just obligations to the public creditors, and to settle conflicting questions and interpretations of the law, by virtue of which obligations have been contracted, it is hereby provided and declared that the faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment in coin, or its equivalent, of all the obligations of the United States not bearing interest, known as United States notes, and of all the interest-bearing obligations of the United States, except in cases where the law authorizing the issue of any such obligation has expressly proven that the same may be paid in lawful money, of other currency than gold and silver; but none of said interest-bearing obligations, not already due, shall be redeemed or paid before maturity, unless at such time as the notes shall be convertable into coin, at the option of the holder; or, unless at such time as the bonds of the United States a lower rate of interest than the bonds to be redeemed can be sold at par, in coin; and the United States also solemnly pledges its faith to make provision, at the earliest practicable period, for the redemption of the United States notes in coin." Sic transit repudiation.

THE LATEST NEWS.

Congress adjourned on Saturday. The Senate re-assembled on Monday. Ashley of Ohio, was confirmed Gov. of Montana by one majority. Congress passed a bill and the President signed it, submitting the constitutions of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas to a vote of the people. In the Legislature the House refused on last Saturday to concur with the Senate resolution to adjourn. A banquet to Chas. Dickens was given in Liverpool Saturday night.

A FAMILY of five persons was killed by the insane father in Oakland, Minn., last Wednesday. Whither are we drifting? Only the week before a similar thing occurred in Philadelphia. Are we rushing into insanity by our fast living?

RECONSTRUCTION IN GEORGIA.

Through the courtesy of our Congressman, Capt. Donley, we have received a copy of the "evidence before the Committee on Reconstruction relative to affairs in Georgia." A careful reading reveals the fact that Georgia is not quite so much reconstructed as some pretend, especially in the matter of punishing white men for killing Negroes. There seems to be no general organized opposition to the enforcement of the law, but the Freedmen are afraid to prosecute, and the people are too ignorant to give a hearty support to justice. A Few extracts will illustrate the state of things:

COLUMBIA CO. GA., Sep. 1, 1868.

Nathan Flemming this day appeared before me, the ordinary elect of Columbia county, Georgia, and under oath made the following statement, viz:

On the night of the 30th of August, as I was preparing to go to bed, I saw three men approaching my house, in Lincoln county, each of whom had a pistol buckled on behind him; and as they drew near the house they took them off and held them in their hands; but finally passed by my house and went to my brother-in-law's house and asked him where I was. He told them I was at home, and then they returned in full speed to my house. They asked my wife, who was in bed, where I was; and when she told them she did not know they commenced beating her over the head with a pistol. She cried for help, and finally escaped from them, when they searched the house all over for me. They waited at my house several hours; and at last I managed to get into the house without their seeing me, and took my clothes and started for Columbia county.

I solemly swear that I do not know of any reason why they came after me, except that I always refused to join the Democratic party when they have urged me to do it, and I left working for Elmund Lyons last June when he ordered me to on account of a dispute about a shoat. I solemnly swear that I believe that my life would be in danger if I should return to my home. Great numbers of colored men in Lincoln county I know to be in danger of their lives, and they have been ever since the election last April, when the whites told them they should suffer for voting the radical ticket. They are now waiting for Mr. Madison to tell them that a law has been passed to protect them. If there is not a law passed soon to protect them, they will not dare stay there much longer. I am afraid to go back to Lincoln county after my wife and children. We travelled in the night from fear of the whites. NATHAN FLEMMING.

Vitness: JOHN W. LOVING.

Before me, ordinary elect of Columbia county. C. STEARNS.

Whether the people of Georgia desire their State to be admitted in to the Union is well answered as follows:

Question seven. "Do the people desire peace and a restoration of their proper relations to the States and government of the Union?"

Answer. They do, provided the country is to be ruled according to their views, and in Democratic creed, but if it has to be ruled by the Republican party—negro-worshipping party, as they call it—they want no peace

The list of murders and assaults with intent to kill, committed upon Freed people from Jan. 1, 1868 to Nov. 15, 1868, gives the whole number at 366. In the majority of these cases the assailants were white men, and no action was taken by the civil authorities. The tenor of the whole is something like this:

55. August 30, in Calhoun county, Harriet King was taken from her house at night into the woods, whipped with boards and switches on her naked body, while lying across a log, by Collier McKeaken, and Hendrick and George Wooten, all white, for calling a child of Collier a mulatto No arrest. Assailants at large in Calhoun county.

August 31, in Randolph county, George and Minnie Cassiday badly cut with axes by Beujamin and David James, (white,) without provocation. No arrest. Both assailants at large in Randolph county.

August 13, Thomas county, Jenny Wyche was assaulted and an attempt made at rape by a white man named Houston. This done the on the public highway. No action by authorities.

Many such cases could be given, but the details are sickening. So long as the people of Georgia continue to thus maltreat the Negro, and refuse to recognise him as a human being, so long should their State be kept out of the Union.

A TEMPERANCE Convention has been called to meet in Monongahela City, Pa., on the 27 and 28 inst. It will be conducted by Hon. S. B. Chase, Pres. of the State Temperance Convention, and late R. W. G. C. T. of North America. An invitation to all Temperance Societies to send representatives is given.

IF we work upon marble it will perish; if upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon our immortal minds—if we imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of our fellow men—we engrave on those tablets something which will brighten through all eternity. Daniel Webster.

CONGRESS adjourned last Saturday.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT GRANT.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The following message was received from the President by Congress at four o'clock this afternoon:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

While I am aware that the time in which Congress proposes now to remain in session is very brief, and that it is its desire as far as consistent with the public interest to avoid entering upon the general business of legislation, there is one subject which concerns so deeply the welfare of the country, that I deem it my duty to bring it before you. I have no doubt you will concur with me in the opinion that it is desirable to restore the States which were engaged in the rebellion to their relations to the Government and the country at as early a period as the people of those States shall be found willing to become peaceful and orderly communities, and to adopt and maintain such constitutions and laws as will effectually secure the civil and political rights of all persons within their borders The authority of the United States, which has been vindicated and established by its military power, must undoubtedly be asserted for the absolute protection of all its citizens in the full enjoyment of the freedom and security which is the object of republican government; but wherever the people of a rebellious State are ready to enter in good faith upon the accomplishment of this object, in entire conformity with the constitutional authority of Congress, it is certainly desirable that all causes of irritation should be removed as promptly as possible, that a more perfect Union may be established and the country be restored to peace and prosperity.

The Convention of the people of Virginia, which met in Richmond, on Tuesday, December 3, 1867, framed a constitution for that State, which was adopted by the Convention on the 17th of April, 1868, and I desire respectfully to call the attention of Congress to the propriety of providing by law for the holding of an election in that State at some time during the months of May or June next, under direction of the military commander of the district, at which the question of the adoption of that Constitution shall be submitted to the citizens of the State; and if this should seem desirable, I would recommend that a separate vote be taken upon such parts as may be thought expedient, and that at the same time and under the same authority there shall be an election for the officers provided under such constitution, or such parts thereof as shall have been adopted by the people be submitted to Congress on the first Monday of December next for its consideration, so that if the same is then approved, the necessary steps will have been taken for the Restoration of Virginia to its proper relations to the Union. I am led to make this recommendation from the confident hope and belief that the people of that State are now ready to co-operate with the national government in bringing it into such relations to the Union as it ought as soon as possible to establish and maintain, to give to all its people those equal rights under the law which are asserted in the Declaration of Independence, in the words of the most illustrious of its sons. I desire also to ask the consideration of Congress to the question whether there is not just ground for believing the constitution framed by the convention of the people of Mississippi for that State, and once rejected, might not be again submitted to the people of that State in like manner, and with the probability of a different result.

[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7, 1869.

Extra Session of the Senate.

The following proclamation was issued this evening by the President:

WHEREAS, objects of interest to the United States require that the Senate should be convened at 12 o'clock on the 12th day of April, 1869, to receive and act upon such communications as may be made to it on the part of the Executive; now, therefore, I, U. S. Grant, President of the United States, have considered it to be my duty to issue this my proclamation, declaring that an extraordinary occasion requires the Senate of the United States to convene for the transaction of business at the Capitol in the city of Washington, on the 12th day of April, 1869, at 12 o'clock, noon, on that day, on which all who shall at that time be entitled to act as members of that body are hereby required to take notice. Given under my hand and the seal of the United States at Washington, the 8th of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the ninety-third.

By the President.

[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

The extra session is called to act upon nominations to office.

LATE Mexican correspondence says: Civil war in the State of Tamaulipas continues to rage with unabated fury. A party of rebels under Vargas defeated Escobedo's troops near Villagrassa, capturing his equipage, archives, and twenty seven thousand dollars in specie. The same party attacked the city of Linares, but met with heavy loss. Escobedo's policy towards the rebels is of the most bloody, relentless character; nothing but extermination satisfies him. He has given orders to have shot all foreigners who are not provided with passports. Two American traders on their return from Saltillo to the Rio Grande, were robbed by the military, shot and their bodies hung up on trees.

The Duty of the Naturalized Citizen on the Subject of Impartial Suffrage.

A strong writer and a powerful friend of freedom, thus discourses on the duty of the naturalized citizen in reference to the subject of impartial suffrage: The wheel of fortune revolves, and that party or nation which yesterday was raised to the very zenith of power and glory may to-day have "its nose to the grindstone," with the thong lacerating its flesh, and the fetters weighing down its limbs. Be just to other, and you need have no fears on your own account. Make suffrage universal in the Republic. Let it be the right of every man, because he is a man. Let neither birth nor creed nor color nor class be a barrier in its way. Do this, and you have seen the last of the base and brutal bigotry which has tabooed the foreign-born citizen as a creature to be avoided and oppressed, which has shot down the German and the Irishman on the streets of Louisville and New Orleans, and which has afforded opportunity to every ignorant upstart to pour the foul floods of his insolent villainy on subjects which are sacred to the minds and hearts of hundreds of thousands of better men than himself. Do the opposite of all this—as, we regret to say, that too many of our well-meaning countrymen have shown themselves only too ready to do—establish the principle of a "white man's Government," make citizenship a mere Saxon or Celtic institution, to the virtual exclusion of all other races and peoples—do this, and you need not be astonished if you find the cup of wrong and misery, which you forced so freely to the lips of others, presented, without much ceremony, to your own In '56 the poor foreigner was the victim of that tyranny which seems to have a lurking in too many human hearts. In '63 it was the negro. In '75 it will be the Chinaman. After that, we suppose the Indian, or some other scape-goat of human villainy, will be the object of pursuit. By and by the round will be complete And we will in all probability, find ourselves where we commenced, in the fiery waves of persecution. It is absolutely certain What has been, shall be. Nor is there a race on earth that ought to have conned the lesson more effectually than our own. The penal days are not so very long passed away, nor is the power of their enemy, England, yet so completely shorn as to make them so secure of their own rights that they can venture to trample on, or deny the rights of others Then let them begin at the foundation Establish the rights of all, then who dare wag a finger at us?

CONNECTICUT.

The Republican victory is more complete than we supposed it when our last issue went to press. Marshall Jewell (Rep.) is chosen Governor by 811 majority, while the rest of the Republican State ticket appears to run decidedly better than the Governor. We shall not be surprised to find the average republican majority nearly or quite 1,000.

But this is the least auspicious feature of our triumph. We have three Republican Representatives chosen to the present House—a clear gain of two—so that the delegation stands three for us out of four; whereas the last was three against us to one for us. The defeat of Babcock in the New-Haven District was hoped for by our most sanguine friends, and that was all, as the District had given over 2,000 majority against us at the two preceding State elections It now elects Kellog (Republican) by 323 majority.

The Republicans have increased their majority in the State Senate, but have lost in the House from local and personal influences, mainly connected with projected Railroads and Railroad bridges. Norwalk, Danbury, Canton, East Haddam, and a dozen other Republican towns, have each chosen one Democrat to the House, while we note no Democratic town but Waterbury which has chosen a Republican. The House is, however, Republican by a majority of 15 to 20.

The majorities for Congress are as follows:

I. Strong (Rep.) over Dixon, 764.
II. Kellogg (Rep.) over Babcock, 323
III. Starkweather (Rep.) over Converse, 2,254.
IV. Barnum (Dem.) over Beardsley, 700.

The XVth Amendment is thus nobly approved. Its opponents have complained that it was to be voted on by Legislature chosen before it was framed. New Hampshire has sustained it by a large increase over last Spring's majority; Connecticut has rejected her Democratic State officers expressly to ratify it. The Democrats insisted that this was the absorbing issue of the canvass; they fought their battle on it, and were beaten. Let them never more say that it has not been fairly carried.—Tribune.

THE self-exiled Southerners who left the country after the war because they thought they could not breathe the to them detested air in which the Star Spangled, Banner floated are now anxious to get back, and in order to facilitate their return the Government of the United States, with a magnanimity almost unparalleled, has directed Admiral Davis to furnish free transportation, on a government vessel, to any citizens of the United States who may now be voluntary exiles in Brazil. To what a humiliation these hot headed sons of the South have thus subjected themselves. How much better to have remained upon their native soil and accepted the situation after Lee's surrender.

THE applications for office at the New York Custom House are estimated to reach 40,000.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The President caused a cable telegram to be sent to Minister Hale at Madrid, notifying him that his resignation will be accepted There is reason to believe that he will speedily be removed, if he does not resign. The quarrel between the Secretary and Minister is bitter and disgraceful, but the cause of Hale's retirement lies chiefly in the fact alluded to last week in the Spanish Cortes. He has not been bringing in articles contraband of war, but has been using his diplomatic privilege in a way of trade for his own benefit and to a considerable amount. It is said that he had a connection with a store, and brought in goods free of duty from England.

For two days experiments have been in progress at the Navy Yard with Dana's concussion fuse shells. The results attained are highly satisfactory and very important The invention is one by which round shell are exploded on impact. In experiments with nine-inch shells, not one failed to explode.

A New Orleans dispatch says a formidable expedition under Frank P. Blair and General Steedman is fitting out there to assist the Cuban patriots. The first installment of the expedition will be sent on a steamship to Cuba, and it is said there are no fears of Government interference.

The friends of Mr. Motley assert positively that he is determined upon for England, and that Mr. Moran, Secretary of Legation, is to be retained under him There has been an increased struggle on the part of the friends of John Jay yesterday and to-day, and the President has been strongly inclined to appoint him on account of his known American views on the Alabama claims. It is also known that Jay favors the cession of Canada to the United States.

General Sickles after a long consultation concerning the Mexican mission, has concluded to decline it on the ground that the policy of Mr. Fish seemed to promise only a continuation of Mr. Seward's, in which, however, the latter is at variance with the President; Grant being himself in favor of a very positive policy with Mexico, has renewed the request that Gen. Sickles should accept the position, and the latter has an interview by appointment with the President to night.

THE LEGISLATURE.

HARRISBURG, pril 9.

SENATE.—The joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment changing the October election to November in every year of the Presidential election coming up, Mr. White moved an amendment submitting this and other questions to a constitutional convention if called by the people on a vote at the next October election. Mr. White's amendment proposes thirty delegates at large, each voter voting for fifteen, and one hundred representative delegates. Overruled as not germain, and the whole subject postponed.

The joint resolution for final adjournment on Friday, the 16th inst., was adopted.

The bill enabling building, saving and loan associations to collect debts after the expiration of charters was passed

HOUSE.—The Registry bill passed finally under operation of the previous question.

The bill allowing parties to contract for interest at seven per cent. was defeated, yeas 43, nays 46.

The Governor to-day vetoed the bill authorizing him to commute the death penalty to imprisonment for life. He denies that it is in accordance with his recommendation in his last annual message, wherein a desire was expressed simply to commute death penalty in six cases distinctly specified, to such terms of imprisonment as ameliorating circumstances might justify and demand.

A FOUR-HANDED fight took place in town last Saturday, in which six-pound stones were used and some of the combatants bit the dust. As usual whiskey caused it, and the real criminal, the rumseller, escaped unhurt.

MUSIC.—A government official in this county saw an advertisement in a paper from a firm, offering to send a "Music box that would play thirty tunes, for one dollar." The official sent the money and received a common mouth organ, such as the little boys use. He is doubtless a wiser and a sadder man.

OUR townsman, Mr. M. C. Bell, has just returned from Kentucky with one of the finest stock horses probably ever brought to our county. We understand Mr. Bell paid a high price for his horse; we wish him success and hope the farmers and Horse breeders will appreciate the enterprise and avail themselve of the opportunity to improve their stock.

R. K. CAMPBELL returned last week from a trip to New Orleans. He brought with him several specimens of tropical production, a fig tree, cocoanut in the husk, wild orange, specimens of corals &c. Also a pair of texan cattle horns that measure seven-eighths of a yard from tip to tip. He says the people are quiet on political matters, and that they despise Ben. Butler.

$30 PREMIUM.—I will give the above premium to any one will show at the Waynesburg Central Fair Association next fall a better horse for general purposes than my Chestnut Horse Plannet. This will be in addition to the premium given by the Society and to be decided by the Judges on that class of horses. M. C. BELL.

Waynesburg, April 14, 1869.

WE are pleased to call the attention of the public to the New advertisement of Shirk & Ross. These gentlemen have just opened a very fine assortment of goods in the Hamilton House store room in this place, which the public would do well to examine. We assure them that they will not be treated kinder in any establishment of the kind in the country. We bespeak them a liberal patronage such as they deserve.

CLEANING UP.—Diligent housekeepers have been busy the last week scouring, washing, whitewashing, papering, &c. Almost every storeroom in town wears a new, bright appearance. Many however, have not yet house-cleaned their private dwellings, as that is not generally done for awhile yet. We can say to all who expect to refurnish their houses, that they will find a general assortment of everything they need at Frank McGurgan's and they will get it cheap, too.

PENNSYLVANIA PRESBYTERY of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church met last week, in Millsboro, Pa. The attendance was full, both of ministers and elders. A statistical table reported to the body shows favorably for the work of the congregations, both in addition to their membership and in money contributed to various religious purposes. Rev. J. C. Memyer of this county and Jos. Evans, Esq., of Washington county were chosen commissioners to the next Gen. Assembly. The Presbytery will hold its next meeting at Jefferson, Pa., in October next.

A YOUNG blood living not a half dozen of miles away from here, was the victim of a huge joke last Sunday night. He was trying to be particularly "sweet" on a young lady, and had paid her several visits. The old folks thought the children were too little to keep company, and conversed the hint by calling the girl out of the room and sending her to bed, the lady of the house astonishing the young gent by bringing into the parlor a huge piece of bread and butter and sugar, saying in her kindest manner, "There, Bub, take this and run home to your mother; it is time little boys were in bed".—Beaver Rad.

Wonder if some of the staid matrons of Waynesburg had'nt better dispose of their little boys that bother them in like manner?

AN OLD RELIC.—A friend gave us last week a copy of the Marion Telegraph and Local Register, dated at Waynesburg, Jan. 18, 1851. It is not a very old paper, and yet wondrous changes have occurred since it was printed. We suppose it was issued in the REPUBLICAN office (then Eagle office) which at that time was owned by Mr. — Sjegfried. Many of the citizens of the town will remember it. At the head of the editorial columns are the names, Wm Oleinhaugh and H. Phillips. It is marked Vol. 1, No. 12, and an editorial informs the reader that it is the last issue. "Disapprobation of the ladies" is given as one cause of the suppression. It is a gossiping paper, and doubtless the ladies thought it was usurping a work that should belong only to them.

There are several spicy personals in the paper, a sample of which we give:

"Shoneysspittleburg wishes to know what attraction there is on the South side of Main Street that causes a certain young tow headed waxy to take it in preference to the other. Wonder if he would not like to pick up some Lace article at a certain house; if you could get a chance would you soney—well you would old hos."

Such articles would not be tolerated now by the young bloods about town. Time works very wondrous changes! Eighteen years have passed and gone since this little messenger first saw the light. Doubtless many who eagerly read it are now cold in death; many who contributed to its columns have gone to other lands, and their names are scarce remembered. Then the dark shadow of human bondage rested upon our country; men cowered and bent the supplicant knee before the haughty slavocrats of the South. To-day all who live under the flag of our country are free, and the once proud lords beg their bread of those they then insulted. Then the Democratic party was in its prime, and it seemed that its power could never be taken away; men were dragged through our streets, imprisoned and shot because they dared to assert that all men should be free. Now the same Democratic party is suffering under eight long years of terrible defeat, and the doctrine of the equality of all men is carrying every one in its resistless course.

What shall have taken place eighteen years hence? Perhaps then some one will find in a rusty garret, among forgotten rubbish, a copy of the REPUBLICAN of to-day, and will smile as he sees its rude typography, its bad spelling and worse punctuation, and will write as we are writing, of the changes, twixt now and then. Perhaps this paper will have ceased to be printed. If so, we trust that in its stead will be found one that will advocate with an abler pen the great principles that may then occupy the attention of the people. One thing we feel sure of: the principles for which the REPUBLICAN is now battling will then be firmly established, and men will wonder that ever they were opposed.

NOTICE.—Dr F. Whittlesey's next visit to our town will be on Monday and Tuesday the 3d and 4th days of May. Dr. Whittlesey does not arrogate to himself superhuman skill in the treatment of disease, but knows, after many years of investigation, observation and experience in Chronic Diseases alone, that he is daily curing and relieving hundreds that had sought relief in vain elsewhere. One reason of the Doctor's success is that he spares no pains or expense to keep up with the times, always having the most effective medicines, without regard to their cost, and also the latest and most improved mechanical appliances to aid in the cure. Dr. Whittlesey has now a very fine Atomizer for the treatment of diseases of the throat. Medicines, by means of a fine spray can be applied directly to the diseased part. Patients under treatment for diseases of the throat can have the benefit of the Atomizer, during the two days of his visit, free of all charge, by calling at the Doctor's rooms. All those afflicted with diseases of the throat or nasal passage, are particularly invited to call and test its efficacy.

Remember that Dr. Whittlesey treats all forms of Chronic Disease, such as, Consumption, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Catarrh, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia in all its forms; Kidney Diseases, Gravel, Fits of all kinds, Diseases of the Blood, Female Complaints, Urinary Derangements and weaknesses and all other old standing and lingering complaints. Dr. Whittlesey has treated in the last fifteen years over fifty thousand patients with an average loss of less than one to every five hundred treated. When we consider that many of these cases were given up by others before applying, it speaks volumes of Dr. Whittlesey and his medicines.

PETERS' MUSICAL REVIEW for April is at hand, and, in addition to fifteen pages of select reading matter, contains the following new and beautiful music: Ain't I Sweet? Rest, Darling Rest; I'm Still a Friend to You; He Wipes the Tear From Every Eye; Forest Glade March; Damask Rose Waltz; Golden Sunset Mazurka. Music is generally considered expensive, but when such a quantity is furnished for the small sum of thirty cents, it ceases to be a luxury, and even the poorest may sing, play and be happy It is issued by J. L. Peters, music publisher, Box 5129, New York, at the low price of $3 00 a year, or 30 cents for single copies.

Loving music ourselves, we naturally feel interested in circulating it among our musical friends, and know of no better way of doing so than by recommending Peters' Musical Monthly. The reading matter is not excelled by any of the standard monthlies, and the music is all that can be desired, both as regard quantity and quality. Knowing this to be the case, we have made arrangements with the publisher to club it with our paper for $3,00 or we will receive subscriptions at the rate of $3 per year.

REMOVAL.—Dr. Guiher has moved his whole stock of goods to the room lately occupied by P. Brown, nearly opposite the Post office. He has rented the adjoining room, now occupied by Wallace, and intends to make the two rooms one, making the finest store room in town. Go and see his goods.

PEAS, Extra Early, Tom Thumb, Daniel O. Rouke, Blue Imperial, Large Marrowfat, Champion of England, and Bishop's Dwarf Long Podded, by pint or bushel. For sale at G. W. Roberts' Drug Store.

WOOLEN FACTORY.—It seems that Waynesburg is to have one of these establishments. The project was considered by some of our citizens, who came to the conclusion it could be built, and they at once started a subscription paper for stock. The capital asked is $40,000, in shares of $25 each. The payments are to be made in monthly installments of ten per cent.

This is certainly a feasible project, and a much needed establishment. There is an abundance of loose capital throughout the county. It will pay, too. The factory at Canonsburg declared a dividend of 25 per cent. the last year. There is no reason why one here would not pay as well. There is wool throughout the county that might as well be manufactured here as sent off to the East. If Greene county expects to advance any, her citizens must employ their capital in such enterprises as this.

Those who may wish to subscribe stock can do so by applying to Sam'l Braden.

ANGEL OF PEACE.—A picture bearing this title has been kindly sent us by the publishers, T. S Arthur & Sons, Philadelphia. It represents an Angel bearing a child in its arms, flying over a city. The little one has been taken from its home in one of the garrets of the great city and is being borne from its sorrows to the world of light. Above is seen the crescent moon and stars. The whole design is very beautiful, and the execution fine. The price is $2 50, but it is given to subscribers to the Home Magazine, or Once a Month, or Children's Hour for $1 extra. The Children's Hour—a splendid publication—and the picture cost but $2 25, being 25cts. less than the picture alone. The picture can be seen at Rogers' Photograph gallery, and we advise all to go and look at it.

EDUCATIONAL.—The first Session of the College at Jefferson, Greene Co., Pa., will commence on the first Monday of May next.

Arrangements will be made to secure a competent corps of Teachers.

The Tuition fees will be the same as in similar institutions.

The building formerly occupied by the M. E. Church will be used until the College edifice is completed.

A competent Teacher of Music has been secured. Boarding can be had at private houses in Jefferson and vicinity at reasonable rates.

The friends of this new enterprise are respectfully requested to patronize it, a use their influence for its success.

A. A. PURMAN. Chairman of Com.

A HIGHLY intelligent lady, a resident of Syracuse, N. Y., says that she was afflicted nearly a year, periodically, with derangement of the circulation, the blood rushing to the lungs with such force as to threaten congestion and death. This was attended with the most intense pain in all parts of the body. Failing to obtain relief from any of the physicians whom she employed from time to time, she was induced to try the Plantation Bitters, and to her surprise and joy they have relieved her, and she is now in good health and flesh.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best German Cologne, and sold at half price.

I. O. O. F.—Celebration and Dedication at Jefferson, Greene County, Pa. Gen. Greene Lodge, No. 493, I. O. O. F. will celebrate the semi-centennial aniversary of the order by a public procession and dedication of their new hall in Jefferson, on Monday, April 26, 1869. Neighboring Lodges and members in good standing are fraternally invited to participate.

MR. EDITOR:—Through the columns of your paper I wish to give a brief notice of an examination held at Long's School House on the south branch of Muddy Creek, in Cumberland township. The school was taught by Mr. A. J. Waychoff. The examination of classes commenced at 9 o'clock and continued until 4 in the afternoon. All the classes were thoroughly examined, except Practical Arithmetic, which was omitted for want of time. The parents were invited to be present and nearly all complied with the request, showing respect for their teacher, and anxiety to know how their children had prospered. Parents of all schools should do likewise, when the opportunity is afforded. In my opinion Jefferson and Cumberland townships are far ahead of all others in the county, both in respect to good schools, and the interest manifested in their behalf. The upper end had better look out or it will be left behind.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, April 12, 1869.

CATTLE.—Stockers may be quoted at $5 @6 00 ₱ hundred and not many wanted. The best cattle sold at $8 00@8 62 ₱ hundred. The market during the week ruled steady and closed this evening with not over seven car loads in the pens unsold.

HOGS.—During the week there have been increased receipts of still hogs, and in consequence, corn hogs were not so brisk. Prices are not changed materially however from those of last week. Sales of stillers at $9 75@10 75, and the best Philadelphia at $11@11 25, with a few extra assorted at $11 40@11 50 ₱ hundred.

SHEEP.—The market for sheep has been some brisker this week and prices generally perhaps a shade better than last. The supply of sheep has been light in consequence of there not being as many clipped sheep in as shippers anticipated, for usually at this season of the year the receipts are considerable.

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the Radical Cure (without Medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA or Seminal, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to marriage etc.; Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent, under seal in a plain envelope, to any address post paid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Also Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address the publishers, CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,

HELMBOLD'S

CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA

Eradicates Eruptive and Ulcerative Diseases of the Throat, Nose, Eyes, Eyelids, Scalp, and Skin,

Which so disfigure the appearance, Purging the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of Diseases, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by Adults and Children with perfect safety.

Two Table-Spoonfuls of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

An interesting letter is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

YOUNG Ladies Beware! of the injurious effects of Face Powder and Washes. All such remedies close up the pores of the skin, and in a short time destroy the complexion. If you would have a fresh, healthful and youthful appearance, use Helmbold's Extract Sarsaparilla.

A Clear, Smooth Skin and Beautiful Complexion follows the use of Helmbold's Concentrated Extract Sarsaparilla.

It removes black spots, pimples and all eruptions of the skin.

IN the Spring months, the system naturally undergoes a change, and Helmbold's Highly Concentrated Extract of Sarsaparilla is an assistant of the greatest value.

NOT a few of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from corruption of the blood Helmbold's Extract Sarsaparilla is a remedy of the utmost value.

HELMBOLD'S Extract Sarsaparilla cleanses and renovates the blood, instils the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors that make disease QUANTITY vs. quality. Helmbold's Extract Sarsaparilla. The dose is small. Those who desire a large quantity and large doses, Effl.

THOSE who desire brilliancy of complexion must purify and enrich the blood, which is done by Helmbold's Concentrated Extract of Sarsaparilla. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

Physicians who have failed to cure their patients should try this medicine before they give the case up, as we know very many valuable lives have been saved by being persuaded to give it a trial.

Don't despair because all other remedies have failed, but try this, and you will not be deceived.

The proprietors of this valuable Balsam take pleasure in calling to it the attention of all medical dealers, desiring that they procure a supply of it and recommend it to their afflicted patrons and friends.

IT WILL CURE WHEN ALL OTHERS FAIL.

THE SILENT CITY AT GREENWOOD.

BY J. D. SHERWOOD.

There's a city vast yet voiceless, growing ever street on street;
Whither friends with friends e'er meeting,
e'er meeting never greet,
And where rivals fierce and vengeful calm and silent mutely meet;
Never greeting ever meet.

There are traders without traffic, merchants without books or gains;
Tender brides in new-made chambers, where the trickling water stains;
Where the guests forget to come, and strange listening silence reigns;
Listening silence ever reigns.

Ships sail past this silent city, but their owners quiet lie,
And no signals fly from top-tree 'gainst the glowing, crimson sky,
Telling the neglectful owner that his well-built Argosy
For the Fleece is sailing by.

Here the belle forgets the fashions, mindless of her snow white dress;
All unheeded now her toilet, free ungathered
lock and tress;
None here flatter face or figure, none cor
fondly to caress;
Tresses flow and none caress.

Hushed are all these many mansions, barred and bolted door and gate;
Narrow all the walls and earthy, and the roof trees steep and straight.
Room for all—the high and lowly. Rich and poor here equal mate;
Equal dwell and equal mate.

Flowers are blooming near these mansions, kissed by loving dews at night,
Breathing softly round their porches, flowing through the cooling light;
Pealing from their bells sweet music; pealing odors pure and white:
Pealing only to the night.

Here each keeps his well ceiled dwelling, fearing naught of quarter day.
Here no landlord duns the tenant, and no
tenant moves away;
Dwelling ever unevicted, dwelling on from May to May;
Paying never quarter day.

Beckons ever this mute city to its comrade living gay;
To its comrade laughing loudly, sitting on the pulsing bay;
Drawing from its masqueraders pale, white
spectres day by day;
Spectres now, men yesterday.

Thus two cities grow forever, parted by a narrow tide,
This the shadow, that the substance, growing by each others side:
Gliding one into the other, and for evermore shall glide:
Growing ever side by side.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,
For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.
Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unsuspected tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions of visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.
Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

BALSAMIC COUGH SYRUP
Will cure the ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, BLOOD SPITTING, DIFFICULTY OF BREATHING, PAIN and WEAKNESS IN THE CHEST, TROUBLESOME COUGHING AT NIGHT, &c. It will effectually remove the Cough that frequently follows Measles, and any affection of the respiratory organs, no matter of how long standing, or whatever the age of the person. It acts as a specific, is purely vegetable, and is pleasant to the taste. Its effect is soothing, allaying the violence of the cough, facilitating expectation, quieting the nerves and exhilirating the system.
Mothers, Save Your Children!
No child need die of CROUP, if this Syrup is used in time: this is a fact demonstrated by experience. No family should be without this Syrup, as that fatal disease, CROUP, comes like a thief in the night, to steal away your little ones, when regular medical aid cannot be obtained.
